Copeland v. Marshall, 641 F.2d 880 (D.C. Cir. 1980)

To calculate the "lodestar": the number of hours reasonably expended times reasonable compensation,

① Determine how much time was reasonably spent by broad category

- no comp. for non-productive time
- OK to include time on all legal theories if even if you don't prevail under all [Ex. 18, p. 892] but not for legal claims.

② Rate. "The reasonable hourly rate is that prevailing in the community for similar work." p. 892. This is where Evans/Johnson factors come in.

RETAINER AGREEMENT

I, Kathleen Hawkins, hereby retain Anne Pilsbury, an attorney from Norway, Maine, to represent me in prosecuting a claim of sex discrimination in employment against DeCoster Egg Farms and its successors.

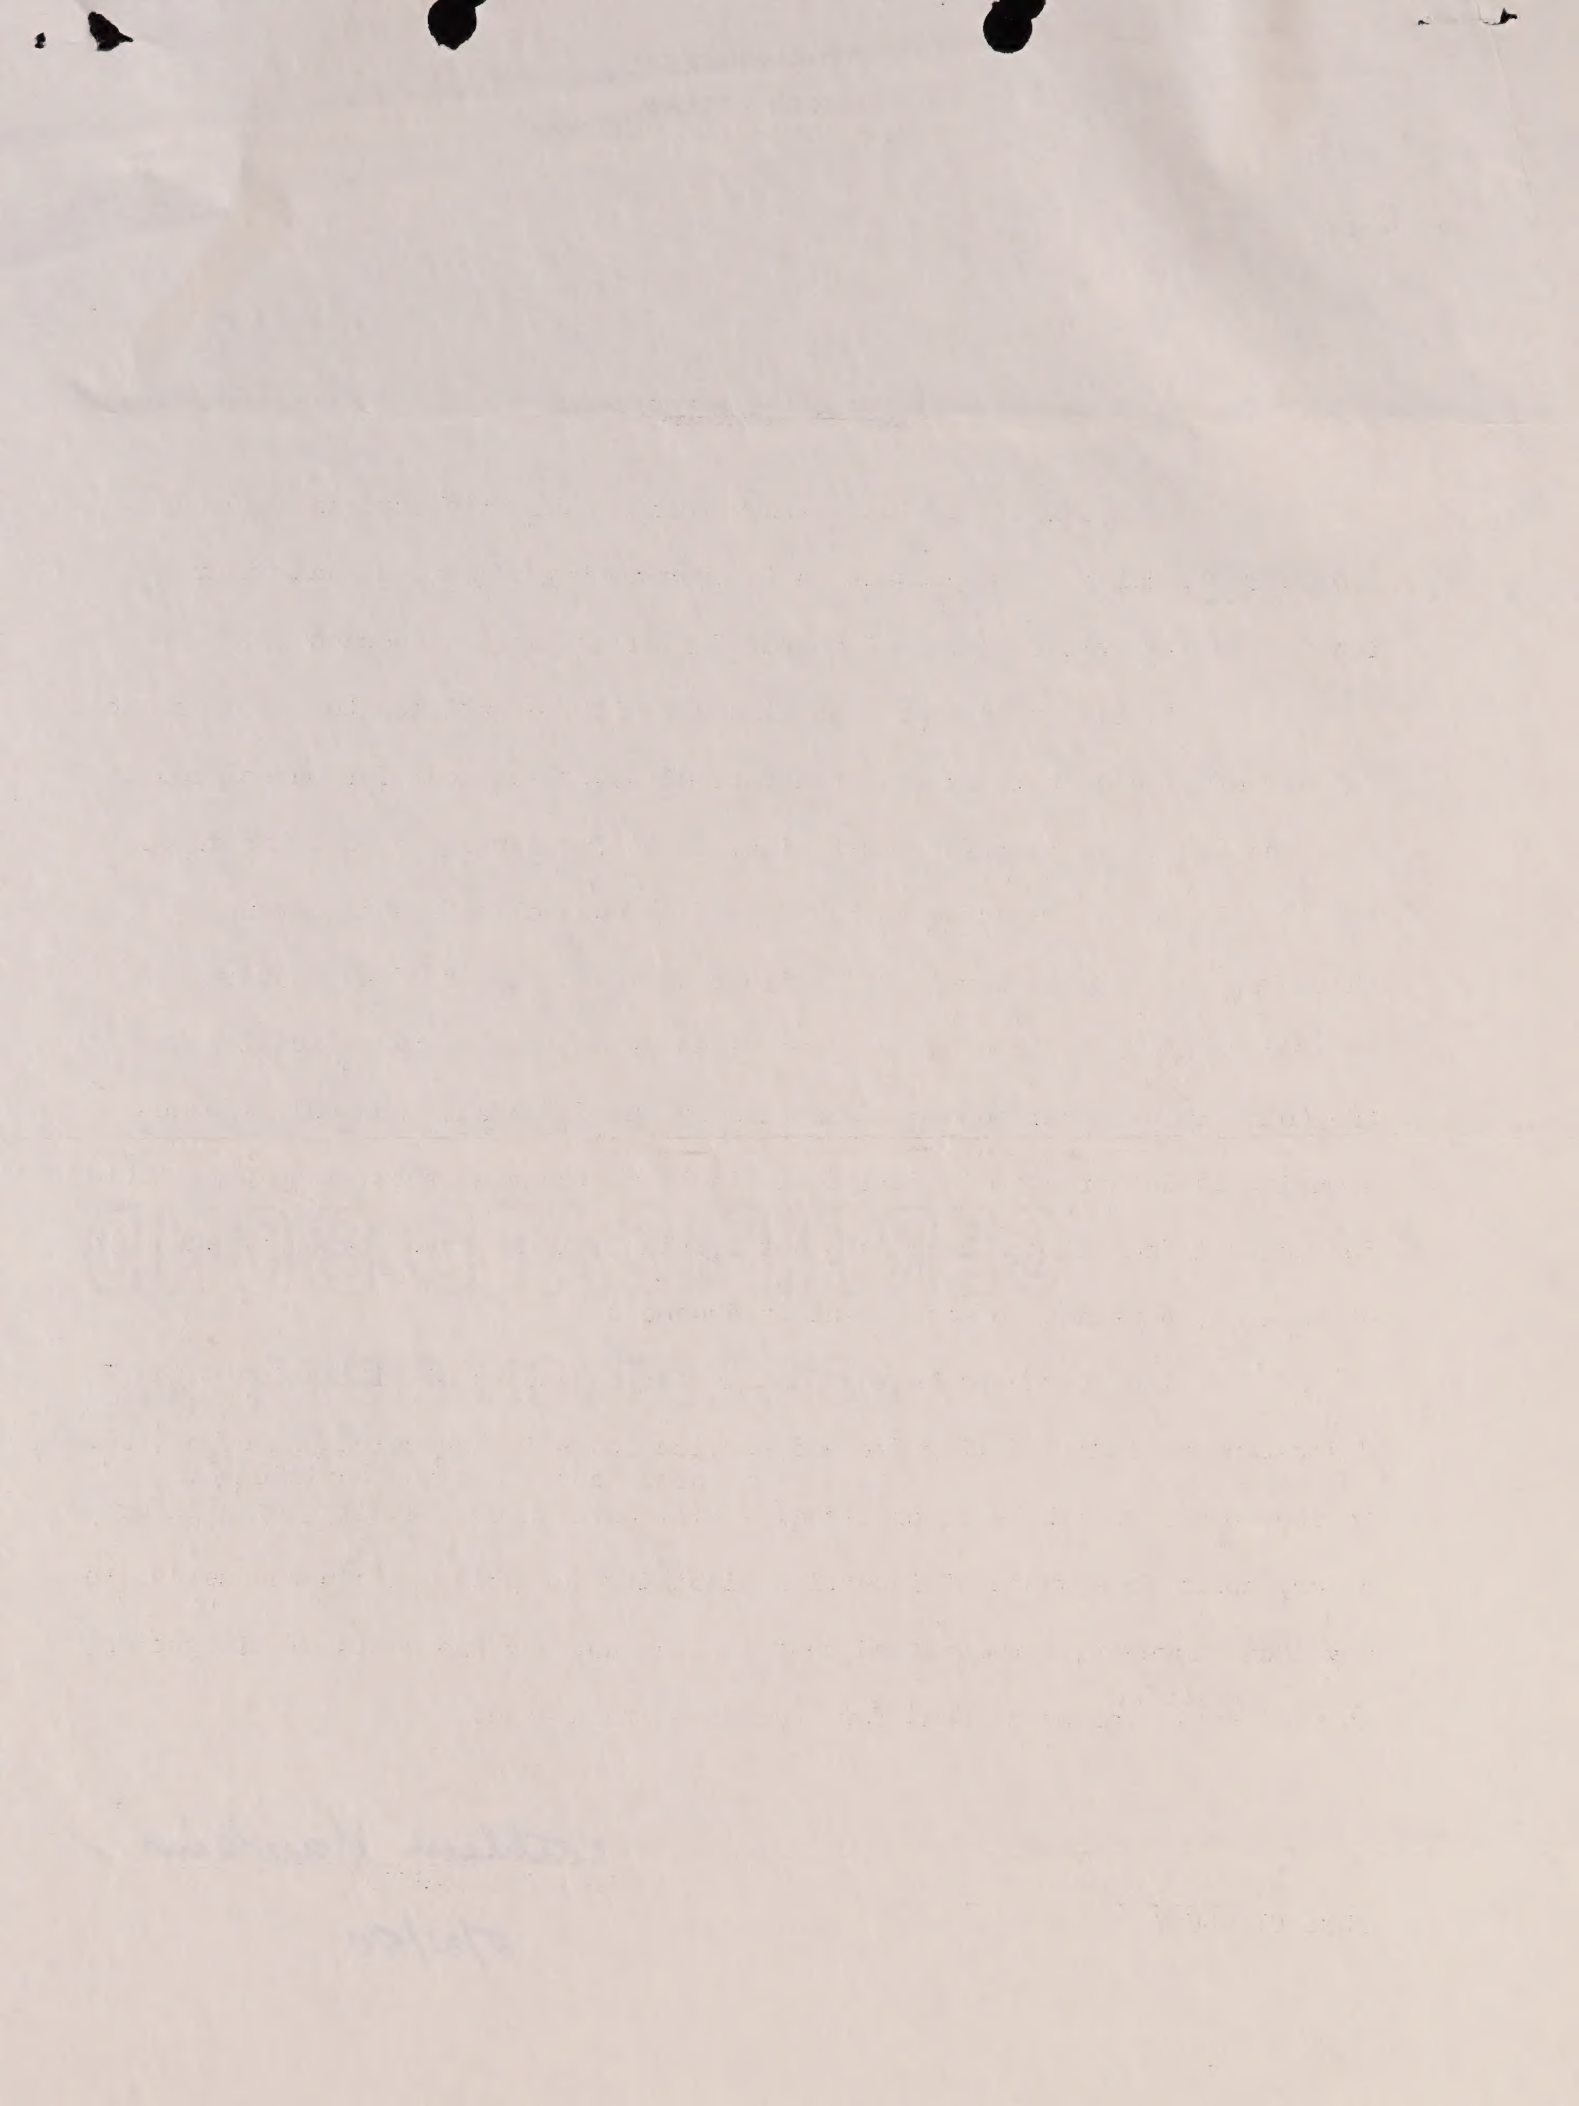

It is agreed that Anne Pilsbury will be entitled to be compensated for her efforts on this case at the rate of $50.00 an hour for out-of-court time and $80.00 an hour for court time. It is further agreed and understood that I will not be expected to pay any of my counsel's fees in advance and that when the case is terminated, either by a settlement of my approval or by a judgment in my favor, that Anne Pilsbury will make an application to the Court to have her counsel fees paid by the defendants and only if such a motion is not granted in full am I liable for counsel fees. I am not liable for counsel fees if the case does not terminate in my favor, meaning an award of back pay pursuant to settlement or judgment.

I do agree to be responsible for the costs of litigation which I understand include a filing fee and service costs in the neighborhood of ~~$25.00~~ ^{AP $60.00} and other costs not now envisioned. ^{AP $75.00} to ~~$40.00~~ and possibly depositions. I will have an opportunity to be informed of any costs in advance of incurring liability for them and can choose not to pay them; however, I understand that if I cannot pay the costs of litigation, it will prejudice my chances for success in this case.
